PASTOR SEEKS WOMAN CROOK

Rev. McGinnis Enlists Aid of Waukegan Police in Search for Woman Embezzler

MERCHANTS OUT MONEY

Revival Was to Receive Surplus Funds Collected From Swindler Who Solicited Advertising from Merchants

The Police Department have been enlisted in the search being conducted by the pastors of the Protestant churches of the city for a "woman of mystery" who fleeced a number of merchants out of big sums of money.

The "woman of mystery" went to Waukegan Tuesday night. Wednesday Thursday and Friday she solicited advertising from merchants for a church publication which she said would be published in Waukegan.

Early Wednesday morning the woman visited with Mrs. Litchfield, President of the King's Daughters. She procured a list of the officers of the various church organizations from Mrs. Litchfield. These lists were exhibited to the merchants of Waukegan.

Friday night she told one merchant that the proceeds of the publication would be given to the revival committee. Rev. McGinnis, pastor of the First Baptist Church was informed of the statement made by the woman, and all day he searched the city for the "woman in black." At two o'clock he enlisted the police in the search for the woman.

It is a known fact that several merchants paid the woman for advertising. One or two merchants gave her a check. Payment on which has been stopped.

The woman told Mrs. Litchfield that she would give the church societies a free write-up in the publication, and that she would pay for the expense of the publication by procuring advertisements.

Thomas Tyrrell, assistant chief of police, believes the woman is still in Waukegan. "The woman is a fraud. She does not represent any legitimate publishing company," said one pastor in an interview.

Members of the police department have been furnished with a description of the woman.

The woman applied for a room at the Hotel Washburn Tuesday night, but was asked to leave the hotel when she refused to pay the hotel clerk. She attempted to borrow the room rent from a traveling man, who refused to even speak with her. "She gave the hotel clerk an awful tongue lashing," said Pastor McGinnis.

THE NEW BANK BUILDING

Will Cost $10,000 to Remodel the Berry Block at Waukegan.

Clinton H. Burnett, correspondent for the directors of the Waukegan National Bank, states that the directors of the newly organized bank have decided to spend $10,000 in improvements on the Berry Block.

It is the intention of the bank directors to tear out the Genesee street wall of the block and construct an entire new stone front. That portion of the building now occupied by Henry Strang the barber, will be rebuilt. A stone front will be installed. The north wall of the building will be resurfaced with stone.

Work on remodeling the building will start one week from next Tuesday. The bank officials hope to be in their new building by the first of May.

The only officer selected as yet is John W. Barwell, who has been made President of the company. The directors are: J. W. Barwell, L. J. Yayer, Fred W. Buck, J. Preston Arthur, D. T. Webb and H. C. Burnett.

It is said that Willard Ward will resign his position with the First National Bank to take one with the Waukegan National Bank. H. C. Burnett is now assistant cashier at the First National Bank. Grant McArthur, until recently an employee of the People's Bank, has accepted a position with the First National Bank.

GARDNER SUCCESSFUL DAIRYMAN

Solon Man Tells How he Makes His Dairy a Profitable one

MILKS THREE TIMES A DAY

Figures Show That Herd of 20 Holsteins Average one thousand pounds of Milk Per Day

W. H. Gardner of Solon, one of McHenry county's most successful dairymen, has a dairy of twenty Holsteins that produced better than 1000 pounds of milk per day during the months of December and January, or a daily average of 50 pounds per cow. During the two months Mr. Gardner delivered to the Wieland milk plant at Solon 57,155 pounds of milk, his check for the two months amounting to $1013.70. Mr. Gardner's December dividend amounted to $485.82 for 26,990 pounds and the January dividend called for $527.88 for 30,165 pounds. The above figures do not average 1000 pounds per day for the two months, 100 pounds having been used each day for feeding calves. Adding this to the total factory receipts, however, would bring the total a trifle over the 1000-pound daily average.

Mr. Gardner is one of the new school farmers and is a firm believer and strong advocate of the present day farming methods, carrying on his dairy and other farm work along scientific lines. His cows are fed a balanced ration, containing those feeds which are required for milk production, they are kept in a sanitary and well ventilated barn are given the very best of care. Each cow is fed and milked three times a day. The extra milk obtained from the third milking more than pays for the feed consumed and work involved, according to Mr. Gardner, who claims that a cow gives ten pounds more milk if milked three times a day during the first two or three months after freshening.

Believing that some dairymen would be interested in his system of feeding, Mr. Gardner has given us the balanced ration that his cows are fed, from which they average 60 pounds of milk per cow during the last two months.

The ration consists of 50 pounds of silage, 15 pounds of alfalfa and 12 pounds of ground feed. The ground feed is a mixture of 400 pounds of ground corn and barley, 125 pounds of Ajax Flakes, 100 pounds of gluten, 100 pounds of bran and 100 pounds of oil meal. The above ration of 77 pounds is the average daily ration of each cow, though he varies the amount given to each cow according to her size and age. The ration is for a cow that is fed and milked three times a day and would prove a too heavy feed for cows milked only twice a day.

GRIFFIN AND GREEN RETURN EXCESS FEES TO THE COUNTY

Sheriff Elmer Green and his predecessor Elvin Griffin have complied with the suggestion of Auditor Sims and have turned into the county treasury $1151.65 in excess fees.

Several weeks ago the Waukegan Gazette announced that Auditor Sims had found a discrepancy in certain offices. Mr. Sims did not say that this money had been misappropriated. He said that the funds had been taken through a misunderstanding of the new law, that denies county officers the right to accept fees for certain work.

It developed that Sheriff Green had accepted fees for taking patients to the State hospital for the insane. He accepted 25 cents per mile for taking patients, where he should have taken but ten cents per mile. He made the same mistake in fees for taking prisoners to the state penitentiary at Joliet. He also accepted 60 cents as turnkeys fees for every prisoner thrown into the county jail. These fees were in excess of those allowed by law.—Waukegan Gazette.

VOLIVA TAKES FIRST STEP

Voliva Has Declared War on Ralph J. Dady State's Attorney

Wilbur Glen Voliva, overseer of Zion City, has declared war on State's Attorney Dady and trial judges of this district.

Mr. Voliva contemplates giving an illustrated exposure of trials in Lake County courts.

That he and his people, have been persecuted by Dady, and county judges, is the statement of the overseer of the Christian Apostolic church in an interview.

The overseer will make a cartoon and picture attack on Dady and others. Already he has declared his intention of renting space in Waukegan and Lake county newspapers to expose the court officials to the public.

On Sunday, April 20th, Mr. Voliva will speak from the platform at the Auditorium in Chicago. He claims he will tell the people of the big metropolis how he has been persecuted by Lake County. He will conduct meetings at Orchestra Hall, Chicago on the fourth Sunday in May, and the second Sunday in June.

The first cartoon, which has been prepared for the overseer will show the Independents of Zion City bringing in twenty Italian "floaters" to vote them at a city election. Twenty cartoons will be published by the overseer before the close of the summer season. He plans on giving a talk in Waukegan during the month of July.

Mr. Voliva claims he has never received justice at the hands of State's Attorney Dady, or Charles Whitney, Judge of the Circuit Court. He makes a similar complaint about Perry L. Persons, Judge of the County Court.

NEW BANK BUILDING IS PLANNED FOR LAKE VILLA

That Thomas Sexton is planning to erect a fine $30,000 bank building at Lake Villa, is the latest report. It is stated that the plans have been drawn and that the building will be one of the prettiest ever designed for a small country town.

Front will be of a colonial style with attractive face brick and corners. The first floor will be used entirely for the banking business and the upper story will be used for offices.

The bank is in operation now, but its quarters are not suitable for the business so the new building is almost a necessity.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED BY PIPER

Sugar Beet Growers of Racine and Kenosha Believe Companies Combined

SEND WARNING OF TRUST

President Piper Rushes Letter to Various Growers Urging Them to be Careful in Making Contracts

Is there a combination between the sugar beet companies of Wisconsin against the growers in Kenosha and other counties? The executive committee believes that there is, and a second circular has been addressed to the members of the Kenosha and Racine County Beet Growers' Association, under date of February 15, 1913.

It is urged in the letter that the farmers ought to get together and talk over the proposition, but as that is almost impossible the proposition is to discuss the matter on paper.

The committee say that they desire to inform the members of the association and others who grew beets, that they have been in communication with the Pope factory and they state that they will not contract any beets in Wisconsin, only under the same terms as the other two companies.

"Now then," says the committee, "as the Wisconsin companies have come out with the same kind of a contract as the Rock county, it is evident and plain to see that all three companies are combined, and have agreed and connived to ignore the beet growers' association and have accused and threatened us under the Sherman act for organizing to control an out put, but in reality to protect ourselves against their co-operation trust in taking undue advantage of the farmer who is individually helpless and how else can we get protection only through association, which is legitimate."

In the testimony of a great many beet growers from different states, the price received for beets ranges from fifty-five to six dollars and they claim that they cannot grow beets for less to make any money. Figures show the cost of production per acre from forty-three to forty-five dollars per acre with out cost of fertilizing and they yield eleven to thirteen tons per acre. The association also has reports from Washington that beet growers ought to receive eight dollars or better for beets, tariff or no tariff.

Again, the circular says: "Your executive committee has made a careful study and investigated conditions, and as our interests are identically the same we believe you have the utmost confidence in our advice, and as a matter of fact the beet companies are out rioting everything in their power to again entice us into their trap with their promises or threats that they will close their factories or cancel their shipment of seed, which is on the way if the growers do not sign their (they call them contracts) which are dangerous things to sign."

"We have nothing to worry about let the beet companies worry; our farms are worth just as much without the beet factory, but what is the beet factory worth without our farms? Let each one of us make ourselves a committee of one to see and talk it over with our neighbor and there might be some one who does not belong to our association, and has signed to grow beets, or is inclined to do so, make him feel ashamed of himself for being so foolish, for we certainly have the chance right now, if we will only avail ourselves of the opportunity and step right out in the front rank and say we going to protect ourselves and stand for a square deal."

Straight From the Shoulder.
"Well, now really, Miss Jeerwell, I should like to hear what you would consider the ideal man," said Bilhad. "Define him for me, won't you?" "I couldn't," said Miss Jeerwell with a pleasant smile. "The terms are essentially contradictory."

Time.
A man who has time to waste never seems to be happy unless he is wasting other people's time.

PIPE ORGAN AND PARSONAGE DEBT FUNDS ARE SOLICITED

I take this opportunity of acquainting the people of Antioch and vicinity that we are now making an appeal to the public to help us pay for our new pipe organ and the old debt on the Methodist parsonage. We have owned the parsonage about 7 1/2 years and there now remains a balance of $350 due on this property. We owe nothing on the church and we are now anxious to liquidate this balance and be entirely out of debt. With the help of Mr. Carnegie we also hope to buy a pipe organ for the church and have it installed and dedicated early in the summer. For these two purposes we need approximately $1075 besides Mr. Carnegie's gift of $440. Of this amount $500 has already been subscribed, most of it in subscriptions of $25 and upwards. We need thereupon about $575 more and we frankly ask the people of this community to help us. Everybody is benefited by the church, regardless of creed. We all like to keep our church and keep it going, if we will all help as the Lord has prospered us, we shall be able to pay our organ and pay our parsonage debt without difficulty.

Subscriptions thankfully received by the pastor from anybody who would like to help.

Adolph O. Stixrud,
Pastor of the M. E. church.

PLAIN WORDS BY VICE-PRESIDENT

Marshall's Inaugural Address to Members of Senate.

MUST GUARD NATION'S HONOR

New Presiding Officer of Upper House Says It Should See That Treaty Obligations Are Observed and Wrong Rectified.

Washington, March 4.—Following is the inaugural address delivered by Vice-President Marshall:

Sonators: The proprieties of this occasion probably require a few words from one who is grateful to the American people for the honor heretofore done him and this day consummated.

No senator has, I trust, a keener appreciation of the necessities in the way of tact and courtesy now devolving upon me than I myself. I offer no divergent views relative to this body would be less divergent if the American people would come to realize that on all sides of real questions much may truthfully be said. Such an attitude of the public mind would eliminate the view that this body is distinctively deliberative and not thoroughly patriotic.

No Substitute for the Senate. Charges of bad faith based upon an attitude of mind or upon conduct should never be made until it is clearly established that the resultant action is the outcome of personal interest or improper and dishonorable business or social relations.

Your action has not always met with universal approval, but up to this good hour no workable substitute for the exercise of the functions of this body has been proposed. It is not needful for me here and now to accept a brief in your defense. This body will continue to stand not because of its presiding officer, but because of the patriotism and intelligence of its constituent members and their devotion to our system of government.

Guards the People's Honor. With neither right nor desire to infringe upon the prerogatives of the president soon to be, I beg the expression of the opinion that what ever diverse views may be held relative to the work of this body all persons are agreed that under the Constitution the senate of the United States is singularly the guardian of the people's honor; that more and more, as righteousness is exalted among this people, the idea is becoming more firmly fixed that it is not vast territory, great wealth nor large learning which mark the real status of America; that America is to be measured by the golden rule of honor; and, as the idea in her formation was the inherent right of men to rule themselves, that now she can ill afford to announce this doctrine in her own land and renounce it for an instrument of oppression in other lands.

Unfortunately there is no fixed standard of honor outside the dictionary. The gambler may hold it to consist in paying his gaming debts; the member of the smart set, in divorcing his neighbor's wife before taking her unto himself; the senator, in eliminating personalities.

Must Observe Treaties. But when we enter the chancelleries of the world and submit to their judgments not only our right to be but our right to be respected, we can hope to be measured in but one way; and we must be able to show that the solemn treaty obligations of this republic will be kept with the same scrupulous honesty, both of spirit and letter, whether made with the humblest people of this continent struggling for self-government or with the mightiest monarch of the old world.

This high sense of honor constitutes the panoply of the American people. Armies and battlefleets furnish no substitute for it. These are valuable, but the people never intended that authority should use them as accessories to a burglar's kit.

Duty to Rectify Wrong. It is only in the name of the American people, either in violation of treaty obligations or the manifest purpose of the Monroe doctrine, has taken aught while this body was deliberating. It is your duty to ascertain all the facts thereto. And if wrong or injustice has been done, even to the humblest republic, let this people be brave enough and sufficiently honest to make reparation. The real greatness of this republic rests upon its unshaken honor, and it is the duty of this body to search down rumors of bad faith and dishonesty and to rectify wrong wherever wrong is discovered.

Here in this most sacred spot where war has been made and peace declared, here in the presence of the distinguished representatives of the governments of the civilized world, here within the hearing of the beauty, culture and ripened statecraft of his own land, may one humble American express the hope before he enters upon a four years' silence that all our diplomacy may spell peace with all peoples, justice for all governments and righteousness the world around.

Straighten That Lane Back

Backache is one of Nature's warnings of kidney weakness. Kidney disease kills thousands every year. Safety is only certain if the early warnings are heeded while help is possible. Doan's Kidney Pills have helped many thousands to get rid of backache, strengthen weak kidneys and regulate bladder and urinary disorders.

Don't neglect a bad back. If your back is lame in the morning, if it hurts to stoop or lift, if the dull aching keeps up all day, making work a burden and rest impossible—suspect the kidneys. If the urine is off color and shows a sediment; if passages are irregular, too frequent, too scanty, or scalding, this is further proof. There may be dizzy spells, headaches, nervousness, dropsy swellings, rheumatic attacks, and a general tired-out, run-down condition.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is publicly recommended by 100,000 persons in many different lands. Doan's act quickly, contain no harmful nor habit-forming drugs and are wholly harmless, though remarkably effective.

From Serious Dropsy To Perfect Health

George Davis, 524 S. 23rd St., Vincennes, Ind., says: "My back ached day and night. I became nervous and irritable and had such headaches, I thought my head would burst. I could not work without terrible dizzy feelings and was afraid to venture far alone for fear of falling. For days at a time I could not urinate, and finally when the passage did take place, the odor would be stifling. My feet and arms were swollen to twice their natural size. When I touched the swollen area, a dent would remain. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and soon noticed a change for the better. The swelling in my limbs and arms went down, the dizzy spells left, and ere long I was in as good health as ever before in my life."

When your back hurts, when your kidneys trouble you, when you feel tired, worn-out or depressed, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that cured Mr. Davis, and make sure the name DOAN'S is on the box.

U. S. ATTACK THREAT TRUST

Shows British Interests Extort Profit on All Spoils Used by American.
Seamstresses.

Trenton, N. J., March 5.—The so-called thread trust was attacked by the federal government in a civil antitrust suit filed here Monday seeking the dissolution of the alleged attempt monopoly by the "Contes Interests" of Great Britain of the thread trade of the United States, including that of the American Thread company. Itself a consolidation of 14 American companies.

Evidence will be introduced showing that these British interests make an excessive profit on every spool of thread used by American housewives, seamstresses and "sweatshop" garment workers.

Under the domination of J. & P.
Coates (Ltd.) of Great Britain, it is alleged the interstate and foreign thread trade in this country has been restrained by combinations and unfair competitive methods.
The petition, signed by Attorney General Wickersham and James A.
Powell, assistant to the attorney general, was filed by United States Attorney Vreeland.

New York, March 5.—Dissolution of the so-called "contant trust" is asked by the government, in a civil suit filed in the United States district court here under the Sherman anti-trust law Monday.

JUST BEFORE MEXICAN REVOLUTION BROKE OUT

This photograph, the first to be received from Mexico since the revolution, shows a remarkable scene in front of the palace in Mexico City, at four o'clock on Sunday, February 9. Under the canopy in the center is President Madero making a desperate effort to talk to the people, who are not paying much attention to him. Mounted police can be seen pleading with the crowd to disperse, as word had just been received that General Reyes and Diaz were about to commence the mutiny. Shortly after this picture was taken the battle commenced and hundreds were shot down and a frightful stampede followed.

U. S. TROOPS IN BATTLE

CLASH WITH MEXICANS ON BOR-DER NEAR DOUGLAS, ARIZ.

Americans Kill Four of Enemy Without Any Loss to Themselves—Excitement Intensified.

Douglas, Ariz., March 4.—The first fighting between American troops and Mexicans during the present trouble in Mexico occurred three miles from this city on Sunday. In a hot skirmish between regular Mexican soldiers and troopers of the Ninth United States cavalry four Mexicans were killed and several wounded. There were no casualties on the American side. Intense excitement prevails all along the border as a result of the fight. Believing the Mexicans have begun an organized movement to terrorize the border, armed Americans are camping on the boundary line, while hundreds of others are armed and ready to take the field.

Four American army officers walking on the American line three miles from Douglas, are reported to have been fired on by forty regular Mexican soldiers, patrolling the border out of Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas. Sixteen of the negro troopers of the Ninth rushed to the place of the firing and a spirited skirmish ensued.
The American soldiers were holding their position at the international line when reinforced by two troops of the Ninth. The Mexicans were routed, leaving four killed on the field, and others struggling through the brush, nursing their wounds. It is said that the American troops became so excited that they overstepped the boundary and pursued the Mexicans for some distance.

Mexico City, March 4.—In a fight in the suburbs of Santa Julia between Madero rurales and government troops, 100 rurales were killed.

REPORT ON HARVESTER MADE

Commissioner Conant Says Company
Has Monopolistic and Unfair Competitive Methods.

Washington, March 4.—Luther Conant, Jr., commissioner of corporations, Monday submitted to the president his report on the International Harvester company, a long and exhaustive document which concludes with the statement that the company's position in the industry is chiefly due to a monopolistic combination in the harvester machine business, certain unfair competitive methods and superior command of capital.

The report shows that the five concerns that consolidated in 1902 had been in keen competition, but that this competition had not been destructive as at least four of them have been making good profits. The new company, says Mr. Conant, was able to maintain its monopolistic position and extend on a large scale into new lines of the farm machinery industry, in part by the acquisition of some of its chief rivals in the harvesting machine business; in part by using its monopolistic advantage in those lines to force the sale of its new lines; in part by certain objectionable competitive methods, and especially through its exceptional command of capital, itself the result of combination. The commissioner found that the value of the physical properties that were involved in the consolidation plus the working capital covered substantially 90 per cent of the capital stock issued.

cost $2,300,000.

$43,500 IS STOLEN

WOMAN BEATEN AND ROBBED OF
BIG SUM IN EVANSTON, ILLINOIS.

VICTIM DOES NOT EXPLAIN

Mrs. Mabel Mills From San Antonio, Tex., Attacked and Left Unconscious—Handbag From Which Money Was Taken Found.

Chicago, March 4.—Beaten into unconsciousness and robbed of $43,500 was the fate of Mrs. Mabel Mills, wife of a wealthy land owner of San Antonio, Tex., guest in the Congress hotel, on one of the principal streets of Evanston at ten o'clock Saturday night. The assailant escaped and the police have no clue as to his identity.
Mrs. Mills is lying in a serious condition in the Evanston hospital with a fractured skull. Physicians said that she cannot live.

The affair presents the Evanston and Chicago police with one of the most baffling mysteries in the history of the two departments.

Mrs. Mills, who is well known in Evanston society and to the management of the Congress hotel, had been in Chicago for about a week, presumably on a pleasure trip. On Saturday morning she cashed a personal check for $45,000 at the Union Trust and Savings bank. This is verified by Frederick H. Hanson, president of the trust company.

Saturday evening she took supper at the home of Mrs. H. L. Stevens, 819 Lincoln street, Evanston. She had the money when she left the Stevens' home in a cab. This is verified by one of the women guests.
Later Mrs. Mills boarded an elevated train and got out in Edgewater, when she discovered that she had left her smaller purse, containing $1,950, behind. She returned to Evanston.

At about 10:30 she was found in a dazed condition on the front porch of the home of Mrs. A. J. Cooper, 808 Milburn avenue. Her handbag was found on Central street between Ridge and Sherman avenues. It was open, and a short distance away from it lay the envelope in which Mrs. Mills had placed the bulk of her money.

On account of the woman's condition she was unable to account clearly for her movements.

PARIS AUTO BANDITS TO DIE

French Jurors Find Eighteen Outlaws
Guilty of 22 Murders—Carouy Takes His Own Life.

Paris, March 1.—Death on the galliotine was the sentence pronounced Thursday on four of the automobile bandits who for months terrorized Paris and its suburbs. Condemnation to long terms of imprisonment is the fate of thirteen others. One committed suicide in his cell after he had been sentenced to life imprisonment, taking poison which is supposed to have been passed to him as he was leaving the courtroom.

This clean-up of desperadoes after a trial lasting 21 days causes Paris to breathe easier. Twenty-two murders were charged against the gang and the total number of the defendants was 22.

Those sentenced to death are Dieub Dieudonne, Callemine, Soudy and Mo-

SULZER IS ANGERED

ASKS THAT CRIMINAL ACTION BE STARTED IN THAW SCANDAL.

Dr. Russell, Head of Matteawan Hospital, Resigns in Face of Suspend-tion Order by Governor.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Criminal proceedings against the principals involved in the Thaw liberation scandal are about to begin.

Governor Sulzer instructed District Attorney Whitman of New York to bring action against Dr. John W. Russell, superintendent of Matteawan, and John Nicholson Anhalt, the attorney, who have charged each other with bribery in connection with the $25,000 fund for the release of Harry K.
Thaw.

This action followed the resignation earlier in the day of Dr. Russell, which State Superintendent of Prisons Scott secured over the telephone, anticipating by three hours an order from the governor for Dr. Russell's suspension in connection with these same charges.

The governor's anger has reached a white-hot pitch.
"While I am governor," he cried, pounding his fist on the arm of his chair, "I am going to run down every graffer in the state service, no matter where he comes from or who is behind him. And there are a lot of them."

Spring Clipping of Horses.

The modern practice among the best pooled and most progressive horse owners and farmers is to clip all horses in the spring. It is done on the theory that in their natural state horses were not obliged to work, so could shed the winter coat in comfort over a period of several weeks.
Since we oblige them to do hard work on warm spring days, the winter coat should be removed for the same reason that we lay off our heavy winter garments. Clipped horses dry off rapidly, hence they do not take cold as easily nor are they as prone to be affected with other ailments as un-clipped animals whose longer hair holds the perspiration for hours. Because clipped horses dry off rapidly they rest better, get more good from their food and come out in the morning refreshed and fit for work.
Since the advent of the ball bearing enclosed gear clipping machine, the work of taking off the winter coat is easy. With the machine a horse can be clipped all over in half an hour, whereas with the old two-hand clipper it required several hours to do it.
Dairymen also now clip the cows all over two or three times a year. The flanks and udders are clipped every three or four weeks, so it is easy to clean the parts before milking. This means less opportunity for dirt and other impurities to get into the milk.

She Married Him.

In a well-known colored school in the south the lesson in general history one day was on the life of Queen Elizabeth.

"Thomas, did Queen Elizabeth ever marry?" asked the teacher.

"Yes, ma'am, I think she did," replied Thomas.

"Are you quite sure?"

"Yes, ma'am, the book says she did."

"It does? Will you please find it?"

Whereupon Thomas opened to the lesson and to the great amusement of the teacher read the statement that "Queen Elizabeth was married to her realm."

"There," said he, triumphantly,
"doesn't it say she was married?"

"I don't exactly know who the gentleman was, but it certainly says she married him."

CLEAR HEADED

Head Bookkeeper Must Be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee did for him. (Tea is just as injurious because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.)

"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

"About three and a half years ago I had an attack of pneumonia, which left a memento in the shape of dyspepsia, or rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My cup of cheer had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial.

"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently, and we did not like it much.
This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Postum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of banishing my stomach trouble. I verily believe, for I am a well man today and have used no medicine.

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co.'s branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my coffee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues.' These have left me since I began using Postum, and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion." Name given by Postum

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book "The Road

WESTERN CANADA'S PHENOMENAL DEVELOPMENT

ITS PERMANENCY VERY LITTLE QUESTIONED.

There have been booms in almost every civilized country and they were looked upon as such, and in the course of time the bubble was pricked and they burst. But in no country has the development been as great nor as rapid, whether in city or in country, as in Western Canada. There may sometimes be found one who will say "Can it last?" Well, today, stands where Chicago stands as far as being the base of the great commercial and agricultural country lying a thousand miles back of it. It has an advantage that Chicago did not have,
for no country in the world's history has attracted to its borders a larger number of settlers in so short a time, or has attracted so much wealth in a period of equal length, as have the Canadian prairies. Never before has pioneering been accomplished under conditions so favorable as those that exist in Western Canada today.

The provinces of Manitoba, Sas-atchewan, and Alberta have the largest area of desirable lands on the North American Continent, and their cultivation has just begun.

Even with a two hundred million bushel wheat crop less than eight per cent of the land is under the plough, four per cent being in wheat. Less than five years ago the wheat crop was only seventy-one million bushels.
It is a simple calculation to estimate that if four per cent of the available cultivable area produces something over two hundred million bushels, what will forty-four per cent produce?
And then look at the immigration that is coming into the country. In 1901 it was 49,149; 17,000 being from the United States. In 1906 it was 189,064, of which 57,000 were Americans, and in 1912 it was about 400,000, of which about 200,000 are Americans. In the three years prior to 1912, there were 358,859 persons who declared themselves for Canada, who brought into Canada in cash, bank drafts, stock, implements and effects over $350,000-000. Why have they gone to Canada?
The American farmer is a man of shrewd business instincts, and when he finds that he can sell his own farm at from $100 to $200 per acre and move into Canada and homestead 160 acres for himself, and similarly for all his sons who are adult and of age, upon lands as rich and fertile as those he had left, and producing, indeed, several bushels to the acre in excess of anything he has ever known, it will take more than an ordinary effort to prevent him from making the change.
He can also purchase good lands at from $12 to $25 per acre.

And, then, too, there is the American capital following the capital of brawn, muscle and sweat, following it so as to keep in touch with the industrious farmer with which he has had dealings for years back. This capital and the capital of farming experience is a small matter in the building up of a country.

Will Western Canada's development continue? Why not? The total area of land reported as available for cultivation is estimated as 218,000,000 acres; only fifteen per cent of this is under cultivation. Nothing is said of the great mineral and forest wealth, of which but little has yet been touched.—Advertisement.

Politeness Ignored.

crossroad.

"Halt her off! Halt her off!" yelled the driver.

The negro jumped about the road and waved his arms. The cow proceeded calmly on her way.

"Halt her off! Halt her off, al-

"See a-tryin' ter!" replied the negro,
"Speak to her! Speak to her and her to witness the oath-taking of the vice-president was by ticket, and it is needless to say every seat was occupied. On the floor of the chamber were many former members of the senate who, because of the fact that they once held membership in that body, were given the privileges of the floor. After the hall was filled and all the minor officials of government and those privileged to witness the ceremonies were seated, William H. Taft and Woodrow Wilson, preceded by the sergeant-at-arms and the committee of arrangements, entered the senate chamber. They were followed immediately by Vice-President-elect Thomas R. Marshall, leaning upon the arm of the president pro tempore of the senate.

"Good maw'nin', cow—good maw-

The president and the president-elect sat in the first row of seats directly in front and almost under the desk of the presiding officer. In the same row, but to their left, were the vice-president-elect and two former vice-presidents of the United States, Levi P. Morton of New York and Adlai A. Stevenson of Illinois.

When the distinguished company entered the chamber the senate was still under its old organization. The oath of office was immediately administered to Vice-President-elect Marshall, who thereupon became Vice-President Marshall. The prayer of the senate was given by the chaplain of the senate, Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, pastor of All Souls' Unitarian church, of which President Taft has been a member. After the prayer the vice-president administered the oath of office to all the newly chosen senators, and therewith the senate of the United States passed for the first time in years into the control of the Democratic party.

Procession to East Portico.
Immediately after the senate ceremonies a procession was formed to march to the platform of the east portico of the capitol, where Woodrow Wilson was to take the oath. The procession included the president and the president-elect, members of the Supreme court, both houses of congress, all of the foreign ambassadors, all of the heads of the executive departments, many governors of states and territories, Admiral Dewey of the navy and several high officers of the sea service, the chief of staff of the army and many distinguished persons from civil life. They were followed by the members of the press and by those persons who had succeeded in securing seats in the senate galleries to witness the day's proceedings.

When President Taft and the president-elect emerged from the capitol on to the portico they saw in front of them, reaching far back into the park to the east, an immense concourse of citizens. In the narrow line between the onlookers and the platform on which Mr. Wilson was to take the oath, were drawn up the cadets of the two greatest government schools, West Point and Annapolis, and flanking them were bodies of regulars and of national guardsmen. The whole scene was charged with color and with life.

On reaching the platform the president and president-elect took the seats reserved for them, seats which were flanked by many rows of benches rising tier on tier for the accommodation of the friends and families of the officers of the government and of the press.

Mr. Wilson Takes the Oath.
The instant that Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson came within sight of the crowd there was a great outburst of applause, and the military bands struck quickly into "The Star Spangled Banner." Only a few bars of the music were played and then soldiers and civilians became silent to witness respectfully the oath taking and to listen to the address which followed.

The chief justice of the Supreme court delivered the oath to the president-elect, who, uttering the words, Chief Justice White.

"I will," became president of the United States. As soon as this ceremony was completed Woodrow Wilson delivered his inaugural address, his first speech to his fellow countrymen in the capacity of their chief executive.

At the conclusion of the speech the hands played once more, and William Howard Taft, now ex-president of the United States, entered a carriage with the new president and, reversing the order of an hour before, sat on the left hand side of the carriage, while Mr. Wilson took "the seat of honor" on the right. The crowds cheered as they drove away to the White House, which Woodrow Wilson entered as the occupant and which William H. Taft immediately left as one whose lease had expired.

WILSON HONORED BY FINE PARADE

New President Reviews Immense Inaugural Procession.

AVENUE A GLORIOUS SIGHT

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington, March 4.—Woodrow Wilson, as ex-president of Princeton, rode down Pennsylvania avenue today, and later rode up the same avenue as president of the United States, and as the highest officer of government a few minutes thereafter reviewed the multitudes of soldiers and civilians which, with playing bands and flying flags, marched by to give him proper official and personal honor.

For several nights Pennsylvania avenue has been a glory of light. Today it was a glory of color, movement and music. Here are 300,000 inhabitants of the city of Washington. Its temporary population is nearer the half million mark. The absentees from the flanking lines of the parade were mostly the policemen, who were given orders to protect the temporarily vacated residences of the capital.

Woodrow Wilson asked that "Jeffersonian simplicity" be observed in all things which had to do with his inauguration. The command for Jeffersonian simplicity seems to be susceptible to elastic construction. There was nothingavoring of courts or royalty, but there was evidence in plenty that the American people love uniformity and all kinds of display, which can find a place within the limits of democratic definition. It was a good parade and a great occasion generally.

Throughes Veliferous With Joy.
The inhibition of the inaugural ball and of the planned public reception at the capitol had no effect as a bar to the attendance at this ceremony of changing presidents. Masses were here to see, and other masses were here to march. There was a greater demonstration while the procession was passing than there was four years ago. Victory had come to a party which had known nothing like victory for a good many years. The joy of possession found expression in steady and abundantly noisy acclaim.

Escorting the President-Elect to White House at a Previous Inauguration.

President Taft and President-elect Wilson were escorted down the avenue by the National Guard troop of cavalry of Essex county, New Jersey. The carriage in which rode Vice-President-elect Marshall and President pro tempore Bacon of the United States senate was surrounded by the members of the Black Horse troop of the Calver Military academy of Indiana. This is the first time in the history of inaugural ceremonies that a guard of honor has escorted a vice-president to the scene of his oath taking.

Parade a Monster Affair.

The military and the civil parade, a huge affair which stretched its length for miles along the Washington streets, formed on the avenues radiating from the capitol. After President-elect Wilson had become President Wilson and Vice-President-elect Marshall had become Vice-President Marshall, they went straightway from the capitol to the White House and thence shortly to the reviewing stand in the park at the mansion's front.

The parade, with Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, United States army, as its grand marshal, started from the capitol grounds to move along the avenue to the White House, where it was to pass in review. The trumpet sounded "forward march" at the instant the signal was flashed from the White house that in fifteen minutes the newly elected president and commander-in-chief of the armies and navies of the United States would be ready to review "his troops."

It was thought that the parade might lack some of the picturesque features which particularly appealed to the people on former occasions. There were Indians and rough riders here not only when Roosevelt was inaugurated, but when he went out of office and was succeeded by William H. Taft. The parade, however, in honor of Wilson seemed to be picturesque enough in its features to appeal to the multitude. They certainly made the most of it.

with General Wood as the grand marshal of the whole affair and having a place at its head. The display, in the words invariably used on like occasions, was "impressive and brilliant."

Regulars in First Division.

The regulars of the country's two armed services naturally had the right of way. Maj. Gen. W. V. Wotherspoon, United States army, was in command of the first division, in which marched the soldiers and sailors and marines from the posts and the navy yards within a day's ride of Washington. The West Point cadets and the midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis, competent beyond other corps in manual and in evolution, the future generals and admirals of the army, had place in the first division.

All branches of the army service were represented in the body of regulars—engineers, artillery, cavalry, infantry and signal corps. The sailors and marines from half a dozen battleships rolled along smartly in the wake of their landmen brethren.

The National Guard division followed the division of regulars. It was commanded by Brig. Gen. Albert L. Mills, United States army, who wore the medal of honor given him for conspicuous personal gallantry at the battle of San Juan hill. General Mills is the chief of the militia division of the United States war department.

The entire National Guard of New Jersey was in line, and Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Maine and North Carolina were represented by bodies of civilian soldiers. Cadets from many of the private and state military schools of the country had a place in the militia division.

Veterans and Civilians.

The third division of the parade was composed of Grand Army of the Republic veterans, members of the Union Veteran league and of the Spanish war organizations. Gen. James E. Stuart of Chicago, a veteran of both the Civil and the Spanish wars, was in command.

Robert N. Harper, chief marshal of the civic forces, commanded the fourth division. Under his charge were political organizations from all parts of the country, among them being Tammany, represented by 2,000 of its braves, and Democratic clubs from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities.

They put the American Indians into the civilian division. The fact that they were in war paint and feathers helped out in picturesque and did nothing to disturb the peace. Members of the United Hunt Clubs of

WILSON SPEAKS TO THE NATION

Inaugural Address Delivered by the New President.

SEES WORK OF RESTORATION

Task of Victorious Democracy is to Square Every Process of National Life With Standards Set Up at the Beginning.

Washington, March 4.—President Wilson's inaugural address, remarkable for its brevity, was listened to with the greatest interest by the vast throng which was gathered in front of the capitol's east portico, and at its close there was heard nothing but praise for its eloquence and high moral tone. The address in full was as follows:

There has been a change of government. It began two years ago, when the house of representatives became Democratic by a decisive majority. It has now been completed. The senate about to assemble will also be Democratic. The offices of president and vice-president have been put into the hands of Democrats. What does the change mean? That is the question that is uppermost in our minds today. That is the question I am going to try to answer, in order, if I may, to interpret the occasion.

Purpose of the Nation.

It means much more than the mere success of a party. The success of a party means little except when the nation is using that party for a large and definite purpose. No one can mistake the purpose for which the nation now seeks to use the Democratic party. It seeks to use it to interpret a change in its own plans and point of view. Some old things with which we had grown familiar, and which had begun to creep into the very habit of our thought and of our lives, have altered their aspect as we have latterly looked critically upon them, with fresh, awakened eyes; have dropped their disguises and shown themselves alien and sinister. Some new things, as we look frankly upon them, willing to comprehend their real character, have come to assume the aspect of things long believed in and familiar, stuff of our own convictions. We have been refreshed by a new insight into our own life.

We see that in many things that life is very great. It is incomparably great in its material aspects, in its body of wealth, in the diversity and sweep of its energy, in the industries which have been conceived and built up by the genius of individual men and the limitless enterprise of groups of men. It is great, also, very great, in its moral force. Nowhere else in the world have noble men and women exhibited in more striking form the beauty and energy of sympathy and helpfulness and counsel in their efforts to rectify wrong, alleviate suffering, and set the weak in the way of strength and hope. We have built up, moreover, a great system of government, which has stood through a long age as in many respects a model for those who seek to set liberty upon foundations that will endure against fortuitous change, against storm and accident. Our life contains every great thing, and contains it in rich abundance.

Evils That Have Come.

But the evil has come, with the good, and much fine gold has been corroded. With riches has come innumerable waste. We have squandered a great part of what we might have used, and have not stopped to conserve the exceeding bounty of nature, without which our genius for enterprise would have been worthless and impotent, scornful to be careful, shamefully prodigal as well as admirably efficient. We have been proud of our industrial achievements, but we have not hitherto stopped thoughtfully enough to count the human cost, the cost of lives snuffed out of energy, of overtaxed and broken, the fearful physical and spiritual cost to the men and women and children upon whom the dead weight and burden of it all has fallen pitilessly the years through. The groans and agony of it all had not yet reached our ears, the solemn, moving undertone of our life, coming up out of the mines and factories and out of every home where the struggle had its intimate and familiar seat. With the great government went many deep, secret things which we too long delayed to look into and scrutinize with candid, fearless eyes. The great government we loved has too often been made use of for private and selfish purposes, and those who used it had forgotten the people.

At last a vision has been vouchsafed us of our life as a whole. We see the bad with the good, the debased and decadent with the sound and vital. With this vision we approach new affairs. Our duty is to cleanse, to reconsider, to restore, to correct the evil without impairing the good, to purify and humanize every process of our common life without weakening or sentimentalizing it. There has been something crude and heartless and unfeeling in our haste to succeed and be great. Our thought has been "Let every man look out for himself, let every generation look out for itself," while we reared giant machinery which made it impossible that any but those who stood at the levers of control should have a chance to look out for themselves. We had not forgotten our morals. We remembered well enough that we had set up a policy which was meant to serve the humblest as well as the most powerful, with an eye single to the standards of justice and fair play, and remembered it with pride. But we were very heedless and in a hurry to be great.

Things to Be Altered.

We have come now to the sober second thought. The scales of heedlessness have fallen from our eyes. We have made up our minds to square every process of our national life again with the standards we so proudly set up at the beginning and have always carried at our hearts. Our work is a work of restoration.

We have identified with some degree of particularity the things that ought to be altered and here are some of the chief items: A tariff which cuts us off from our proper part in the commerce of the world, violates the just principles of taxation, and makes the government a facile instrument in the hands of private interests; a banking and currency system based upon the necessity of the government to sell its bonds fifty years ago and perfectly adapted to concentrating cash and restricting credits; an industrial system which, take it on all its sides, financial as well as administrative, holds capital in leading strings, restricts the liberties and limits the opportunities of labor, and exploits without renewing or conserving the natural resources of the country; a body of agricultural activities never yet given the efficiency of great business undertakings or served as it should be through the instrumentality of science taken directly to the farm, or afforded the facilities of credit best suited to its practical needs; waste courses undeveloped, waste places unreclaimed, forests untended, fast disappearing without plan or prospect of renewal, unregarded waste heaps at every mine. We have studied in perhaps no other nation has the most effective means of production, but we have not studied cost or economy as we should either as organizers of industry, as statesmen, or as individuals.

Government for Humanity.

Nor have we studied and perfected the means by which government may be put at the service of humanity. In safeguarding the health of the nation, the health of its men and its women and its children, as well as their rights in the struggle for existence. This is no sentimental duty. The firm basis of government is justice, not pity. These are matters of justice. There can be no equality or opportunity, the first essential of justice in the body politic, if men and women and children be not shielded in their lives, their very vitality, from the consequences of great industrial and social processes which they cannot alter, control, or singly cope with. Society must see to it that it does not itself crush or weaken or damage its own constituent parts. The first duty of law is to keep sound the society it serves. Sanitary laws, pure food laws, and laws determining conditions of labor which individuals are powerless to determine for themselves are intimate parts of the very business of justice and legal efficiency.

These are some of the things we ought to do, and not leave the others undone, the old-fashioned, never-to-be-neglected, fundamental safeguarding of property and of individual right. This is the high enterprise of the new day: to lift everything that concerns our life as a nation to the light that shines from the hearthfire of every man's conscience and vision of the right. It is inconceivable that we should do this as partisans; it is inconceivable we should do it in ignorance of the facts as they are or in blind haste. We shall restore, not destroy. We shall deal with our economic system as it is and as it may be modified, not as it might be if we had a clean sheet of paper to write upon; and step by step we shall make it what it should be, in the spirit of those who question their own wisdom and seek counsel and knowledge, not shallow self-satisfaction or the excitement of excursions whither they cannot tell. Justice, and only justice, shall always be our motto.

Nation Deeply Stirred.

And yet it will be no cool process of mere science. The nation has been deeply stirred, stirred by a solemn passion, stirred by the knowledge of wrong, of ideals lost, of government too often debauched and made an instrument of evil. The feelings with which we face this new age of right and opportunity sweep across our heart-strings like some air out of God's own presence, where justice and mercy are reconciled and the judge and the brother are one. We know our task to be no mere task of politics but a task which shall search us through and through, whether we be able to understand our time and the need of our people, whether we be indeed their spokesmen and interpreters, whether we have the pure heart to comprehend and the rectified will to choose our high course of action.

This is not a day of triumph; it is a day of dedication. Here must not the forces of party, but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us; men's lives hang in the balance; men's hopes call upon us to say what we will do. Who shall live up to the great trust? Who dares fail to try? I summon all honest men, all patriotic, all forward-looking men, to my side. God helping me, I will not fail them, if they will but counsel and sustain me!

Possibly the era of superstition is withering away. One of the great steamship lines is to start on its vessels on Fridays hereafter. Yet the canny traveler still refuses to sleep in upper 12.
